Experience

UBR Pro | Ultimate Bull Riding

Chief Revenue Officer (CRO)

October 2025 - Present (6 months)

United States

As Chief Revenue Officer (CRO) — I'm leading our growth strategy, investor relations, and revenue development as we expand one of the fastest-growing sports on the planet.

In this role, my focus is on building a powerful financial and operational foundation for long-term success — developing sustainable partnerships, innovative sponsorship models, and investor-backed initiatives that drive both profitability and purpose.

At UBR Pro, we're not only elevating professional bull riding — we're reshaping how the sport connects with audiences, media, and global markets. It's a dynamic intersection of sports, entertainment, and business strategy — powered by authenticity, resilience, and vision.

As CRO, I'll be working closely with leadership, investors, and brand partners to align resources, expand opportunities, and amplify the value UBR Pro brings to fans, athletes, and stakeholders alike.

This position represents more than a title — it's a mission to lead with integrity, build with intention, and deliver growth that lasts. I'm grateful for the opportunity to help shape a brand that honors tradition while driving innovation.

The future of professional bull riding is bold, and I'm honored to help lead that charge.
